TOM MILLERICK IS MARRIED

Announces Marriage to May Watt, Former Sonoma Girl. Happy Couple Just Home From South.

Tom Millerick, one of the noted rodeo stars of Millerick brother fame has announced his marriage to Miss May Watt of Oakland, former popular Sonoma girl. The young couple have been engaged for some years but it was only last week that the news of their wedding, which was quietly solemnized this autumn was given out. The happy couple decided to take a honeymoon trip to Los Angeles where Millerick was to participate in a rodeo, so he bought a new car and took his bride with him. The happy announcement of the wedding last September was then made to their many friends and since the couples' return from Los Angeles they have been heartily congratulated. The bride is the daughter of the late John Watt, former pioneer orchardist of Sonoma Valley and is a young lady of many amiable traits of character and beloved by a large circle of friends.

Millerick is well known throughout the West for his brilliant and daring riding and has won many valuable prizes at rodeos throughout the country.

Mrs. R. A. Poppe's attractive home was the gathering place of the Congregational Ladies Aid members last Tuesday.

F. L. Ohls who came here from Oakland and purchased the G. T. Seipp orchard some months ago is convalescent from a recent fall from a ladder when he broke three ribs while at work on his trees.

S. ZEIFMAN DROPPED DEAD

El Verano Resort Proprietor Succumbs To Attack of Heart Failure Last Monday.

S. Zeifman, proprietor of a boarding house near El Verano for the past five years died suddenly of heart failure at his home last Monday. Mr. Zeifman had complained of his heart trouble last week and was brought to Dr. Hays for treatment. The physician discovered that Zeifman was suffering from neuralgia of the heart and gave him medicine to relieve him.

Monday, Zeifman felt so well that he went to Boyes Springs to take a bath and upon his return home ate a hearty lunch. He was seized shortly afterwards with the acute attack of neuralgia which caused his death. He died instantly, before his physician could be summoned.

Deceased was a native of Poland aged 53 years. A widow and brother survive him. The remains were taken to San Francisco for interment.

VISITED THEIR RANCH

Mr. and Mrs. H. Reynaud and party motored over to their ranch in Sonoma valley on Sunday. They found a splendid stream of water running in the creek. The ranch has been leased to a sheep raiser, who has 900 head of sheep thereon and a permanent camp, while two camps of wood cutters have been installed on the picturesque place. Reynaud and Mouyer recently purchased the place from J. K. Bigelow.

Mrs. George Bruns was here from Hayward this week. She is making her home with her mother there. Miss Viola Bruns has a position in Alameda county.

MARIE HELBERG TO WED WAR HERO

Betrothal of Beautiful Young Nurse And Leonard Thomas Announced.

The pleasing announcement was made this week of the betrothal of Marie Genevieve Helberg, beautiful daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Helberg, and Leonard Lancaster Thomas a hero of the late war, recently returned from overseas.

Miss Helberg is in her last year at the University of California's Hahnemann Hospital and expects to complete her course of study in May before setting the date for her marriage to the young ex-soldier. She has been a brilliant student and extremely popular with doctors and nurses at the big institution. She entered Hahnemann Hospital immediately after her graduation from the Sonoma High School.

The romance which has led to the happy news of the approaching wedding, began with a chance meeting between the former Sonoma friends at the depot in San Francisco where the Engineers, of which Leonard Thomas was a member, arrived home from overseas. Miss Helberg was there to meet other friends, but was overjoyed to see the Sonoma boy after his proud record with Uncle Sam's brave troops. The young folks later met here in Sonoma, the romance rapidly developing until it culminated in the news of the engagement.

Miss Helberg, since her school days, here in Sonoma, has blossomed into a beautiful young woman. She is a girl of sweet manner and many fine traits.

Leonard Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Thomas of this place, performed brilliant and heroic service for two years in France with the

W. H. McFADDEN TAKES BRIDE

Mr. Wm. H. McFadden and Miss Sadie M. Doherty, quietly slipped away to Santa Rosa Wednesday morning Dec. 3rd and secured the necessary license and were married by Judge Denny. Mr. McFadden has a cozy little home on Fifth Street West. Congratulations for happiness and success are extended to Mr. and Mrs. McFadden by neighbors and friends.

Albert Weyl has been suffering from blood poisoning in his hand as a result of a cut.

Second Division of Engineers. In bridging the Vesle under fire and other hazardous work, he was with those who bore the brunt of battle, advancing in the face of deadly fire to make way for the American and allied troops. He was later with the Army of Occupation in Germany. Since his return to California, Thomas has secured a fine position with a Stockton contracting firm and expects to take his bride there to live following the wedding as planned for next summer.

The marriage of Marie Helberg to the former soldier will bring both army and navy into the Helberg family. Miss Valerie Helberg having wed Lieutenant Leland Volquardsen of the U. S. Navy last year. A happy circumstance of the betrothal is the fact that Miss Helberg's brother, W. E. Helberg, is married to Leonard Thomas' sister, so the family will be further united.

SONG RECITAL ARTISTIC SUCCESS

Music Lovers Delighted at Fine Program Presented by M. Sokolay and Miss Poppe.

The song recital given under the auspices of the Sonoma Valley Women's Club Tuesday evening by M. Sokolay, assisted by Miss Emily Poppe was an artistic success and proves that good music is appreciated in the community. Over a hundred music lovers gathered at the clubhouse which is admirably suited as a center for such gatherings as this and the club women should be proud indeed, to have sponsored a delightful evening's entertainment. A song recital was rather an innovation in Sonoma, but true music lovers, both those who have heard much and those who were novices, enjoyed the splendid program as presented by Mr. Sokolay and talented Miss Poppe.

The singer has a wonderful range for a tenor and his voice has a rich quality of tone which few lyric tenors and many dramatic tenors do not possess. He revealed the true artistic temperament in his rendition of the tenderly beautiful Berceuse of Godard, showed excellent taste in the Spirito Gentil of Donizetti, and dramatic genius in Aida. In other of his numbers, the interpretation were distinctive and showed perfect vocal control of which only a gifted singer of experience is capable. Songs made familiar by McCormick and others of the Italian troubadour type were heartily applauded and proved the singer's good judgment in having included them in his program.

Miss Poppe, at the piano, proved herself a sympathetic and delightful accompanist, and her solo numbers, Mi Tesoro and Rustle of Spring, showed her true musician. The former, a lilting valse number, was new to a Sonoma audience, but Carreno, the composer, captivated, as interpreted by Sonoma's talented pianist.

The duet, La Serenade of Schubert was sung by Mr. Sokolay and Miss Poppe, their voices blending beautifully in this idyllic number. Mrs. Walter Murphy accompanied.

SPRAYERS MUST SECURE LICENSE

O. E. Bromer, horticultural commissioner, is calling attention to those having tree spraying outfits and who are doing work for their neighbors that they must have a license issued before doing such work. The license will be issued on application without charge.

The licensed sprayer is required also to make reports of his operations, and blanks for this purpose are furnished at the office of the Farm Advisor. The blanks require the name of the owner of the orchard sprayed, address, number of trees, variety, what they were sprayed for, and kind of spray used.

The system of licensing works out to both the advantage of the sprayer and the orchardist having work done. The inquiring orchardist with work to do is directed to his nearest licensed sprayer and guaranteed by the commissioner that his work will be done right. The sprayer thus secures additional work. The reports show whether or not the sprayer is doing his work right and if not he is called by the commissioner and compelled to perform or his license is cancelled. The reports also allow the horticultural department to check up the work at the end of the season.

District Deputy, E. Burmester, and Chas. Potter, Patron of Valley of the Moon Chapter O. E. S., visited Petaluma together with a number of other local lodge members last Tuesday night, attending big installation ceremonies over there.

RYLAND-DENNY NUPTIALS IN S. F.

Mrs. Agnes Ryland Weds Judge T. C. Denny Thursday At Palace Hotel.

Mrs. Agnes Ryland, sister of F. T. Dahring, prominent Sonoma merchant was married in San Francisco Thursday at 5:30 p. m. to Judge Denny of Santa Rosa. The ceremony took place at the Palace Hotel in the presence of the immediate families of the contracting parties. Rev. Milliken of Piedmont performed the ceremony. An elaborate dinner followed the wedding. The honeymoon will be spent in Southern California.

There were no attendants at the wedding. The bride wore a brown tailored suit with small hat to match. She carried a bouquet of gardenias.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Dahring, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Holt, Mrs. John Kincaid, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nisson, Robert Northrup, Misses Doris and Marie Clewe, Ernest and Wm. Clewe, John and Stephen Dahring. Mrs. Will Clewe could not attend owing to the illness of one of her little boys.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. Dahring, pioneer Sonoma settlers. She was educated at Miss West's school in San Francisco and when quite young married T. Ryland, who at his death left her a comfortable fortune.

Judge Denny has been on the superior bench of Sonoma county for several years. The bride gave her age as 43 and the groom as 49 in securing their marriage license in San Francisco Wednesday.

Judge Denny and his bride will reside in Santa Rosa.

F. A. Blackman of the former David I. Davidson place at Buena Vista was struck by a flying board during the windstorm Thanksgiving day and had his collar bone fractured. He was working down in a well and the timber was blown in upon him with much force.

REBEKAHS HAD GALA NIGHT

Initiate Seven New Members Into Verdant Degree Lodge Thursday.

Verdant Degree Rebekah Lodge initiated seven new members Thursday night at Odd Fellows hall. There was a fine attendance and the new additions to the lodge makes the membership over 80. Those who affiliated with the Rebekahs on this pleasant occasion were Mrs. P. Angove, Geo. Angove, Mrs. G. Stiekel, Geo. Stiekel, Charles Taylor, Mrs. Baneroff and Mrs. Delph.

The hall was tastefully decorated in the colors, pink and green, palms, crepe paper streamers, roses and asparagus fern being used in the artistic effects both in the main lodge room and in the banquet hall.

The work of initiation was most impressive and after the ceremonies a delicious repast was partaken of by all those present.

FRIENDS OF A. W. FOSTER IN THIS VALLEY REGRET ATTACK

The news of the dastardly attempt on the life of A. W. Foster, whom a crazed foreigner mistook in San Francisco for Julius Karttschnitt, and tried to shoot in the back was a shock to Sonoma Valley friends of the railroad man and Sonoma property owner. Mr. Foster's large ranch near here adds much to the productivity of this section and he has always interested himself most kindly in affairs for the upbuilding and good of the valley. Only recently under the name of a Friend of Agriculture he contributed $20 to the Harvest Carnival.

Mr. Foster was unhurt by the attack and has been to his Hopland ranch on a tour of inspection.

Dr. Van Amringe has returned home from the sanitarium after a successful operation for appendicitis performed by Dr. A. M. Thomson.

Sonoma, California, December 13, 1919.

BUSINESS MEN are taking up basketball, so passeth the highball, an extinct pastime.

CHRISTMAS IS COMING and money is going, but we should all be happy that we are here to share in both.

THE BRIGHT LITTLE SEALS sold to combat tuberculosis brighten many a life otherwise blighted by the dread disease. Buy the stamps and be a good Samaritan.

IT OCCURS TO US that since Sonoma's plaza is so historic, and its past is so interwoven with the birth of California into the Union, that it should become a State park. It was a gift from General Vallejo to the town of Sonoma, but eight acres, which is its area, is a pretty big park for a town of this size and we cannot do it justice. If the state would take it over we might have a wonderful piece of landscape gardening in our midst and a spot as beautiful as the Capitol grounds at Sacramento. Why not?

MEXICO HAS A volcanic sort of society which seems to relish periodic or continual eruption. Just as periodic or regular is the effort to get the United States into the embargo. To get into a fight with a neighbor is bad business, but of course that neighbor must not trespass or infringe upon the rights of American citizens. Once the U. S. A. stepped in to quell the various fighting Mexican factions, they'd all turn on her and as naturally as the wife-beater's wife who invariably fights for the brute when a third party interferes.

NO NEW YEAR'S resolution could be better for the city of Sonoma than one to improve our streets. Now that the dust has been disposed of by the rain, it is up to the city to dispose of the chuck holes. The only way to dispose of chuck holes is to go on with the street paving program as recommended by the committee who went on record for a plank concrete pavement. That's what Sonoma wants in its Xmas stocking this year. The positive assurance that Sonoma will be given a chance to authorize bonds to build these streets and connect with the highways is awaited.

YOU WILL HAVE TO have a crust to get any liquor this Christmas for the revenue man says brandy in mince pie is perfectly legal. It seems that mince pie is a solid food, and in solids, not liquids, booze is permissible. Dry logic sounds like Tommyrot, now doesn't it? If liquor in mince pie is all right, why not have it also in hash? There is big possibilities, come to think about it, for enterprising firms to put canned hash on the market with a kick in it. About everything else is already in it anyway. Boarding house keepers might not find it hard to produce the kick. It has long been associated with hash.

THE JAPANESE MENACE is being pointed out by the official paper of the Native Sons of the Golden West which urges its members and all Californians to take steps to protect our shores from the yellow inundation. People in Sonoma county are beginning to notice Japanese penetration here and to voice their objection to it in no uncertain terms. In these days when Americanism is being preached so earnestly, it is fitting that we give the most serious thought to the curbing of the Japanese tide which is flowing hither and can be productive of nothing but a dangerous undercurrent in a society where already too many impossible elements are fomenting trouble.

THE MINISTERS of Petaluma and the W. C. T. U. have seen fit to interfere with the High School's plan over there to make dancing a regular part of the physical education program. They formally protested to the Board of Education, who upon inquiry, found that about ninety per cent of the school patrons favored it. The churches stated that they were against modern or social dancing and as the State Board of Education did not require it, they wished it excluded. This seems good work for Parent-Teachers Associations. Let them determine the advisability of having dancing taught in the High School. We believe that educational institutions should lead, and set an example for high type dancing, which is such a great and popular amusement everywhere. Like all other things, dancing has vicious and exotic phases which can be frowned down and stamped out if something better is offered and encouraged. It seems that there should be ample opportunity for High School pupils to dance outside of school hours, however, although the ethics of dancing could very properly and should be very forcibly taught in all schools. Education should be synonymous with good taste.

The interference of the ministers and their associates is prudish narrowness and arbitrary enforcement of opinion asserting themselves. Methodists do not believe in dancing, but despite their point of view and $50,000,000 drive fund, it will be hard to enforce these views on the public and harder still to put a Methodist curriculum in the public schools. The Petaluma incident is just a beginning of much dictation everywhere if it is tolerated.

35,000 XMAS SEALS FOR SONOMA

Mrs. Green Reports Brisk Demand For Red Cross Stickers and Fine Work Among Schools.

Mrs. L. H. Green, chairman of the Red Cross Xmas seals drive in Sonoma Valley reports that already 35,000 of the cheery little insignia have been placed here and that the schools have not only taken their allotment but have been calling for more stamps. Glen Ellen and Dunbar district has been doing good work, also Flawley which took 1500 seals, and then called for 1500 more; El Verano which added 100 more after an original allotment of 2500; Hinchey, Walmough and San Luis also took more. Sonoma Grammar School added 1500 to its original 6000 and the High School has had in all 14000 to date. Mrs. Green feels justly proud of this fine showing by Sonoma Valley's young philanthropists and their noble work for a good cause. Mesdames Green and Hill have placed many other stamps besides those given the schools, and in addition the State Home will dispose of many.

The work of the local leaders in the drive was heartily complimented by Mrs. Woodward and Miss Ricard, county nurse, who were here on Wednesday.

SCHOOL BENEFIT AT GLEN ELLEN

Tonight, Saturday, December 13th at Pancerzi auditorium the Glen Ellen School will give a benefit entertainment and dance to which the general public is invited.

Glen Ellen has some clever talent among the school pupils and the efficient teachers have prepared a lot of splendid numbers for the evening's program.

LIVE TRANSPORTATION COMPANY TO IMPROVE SERVICE

The Richmond and San Rafael Ferry, which carries autos over the bay between Point San Quentin and Richmond, plans to build another steamer to take care of the rapidly increasing automobile traffic. It first, however, wants authority to increase its rates, claiming in the application it filed with the Railroad Commission that its present rates will not justify an expenditure of money to meet the needs of the service. The company asks that its rates be put on a parity with those of other ferry companies operating on San Francisco bay, which will mean a charge of 94 cents per automobile instead of 75 cents.

VALLEY OF THE MOON AMERICAN LEGION MEETS

Valley of the Moon Post, No. 20, is the official name chosen for the organization of returned service men which held its second meeting here last Saturday night. The Post has decided to meet the 1st and 3rd Saturday evenings of each month and are negotiating for the Women's clubhouse as a meeting place.

Plans are underway for the grand ball New Years eve for which Union Hall has been engaged. A fine jazz orchestra from San Francisco will render the music and a gala time is promised. It goes without saying that "our boys" will give old 1919 a good send off and welcome fittingly the New Year.

H. Paula and wife entertained his father M. Paula of Petaluma this week who came over to spend his birthday in Sonoma and look over his son's ranch, the Emparan place which they have under lease and are highly improving. The Paulas are up to date farmers and a decided addition to the community.

DRUNKEN AUTOIST IMPERILS LIVES

Petaluma Sport With Overdose of Prohibition Booze, Collides With G. A. Goess and Family.

A prominent young Petaluman whose name is said to be John Dough got an overdose of the "it don't prohibit" kind of booze in Napa Sunday and by the time he reached Sonoma, was driving his car like a madman up Broadway. When near the Hopke corner, he collided with a buggy, driven by Andrew Goess, who with his wife, Mrs. Wade and her child, were out taking a ride. The drunken autoist's car struck the rig with terrific force and turned it completely over. The Goess family were thrown out, but fortunately escaped injury. The intoxicated driver of the auto landed in the ditch with his car. Then Deputy Sheriff Ryan appeared on the scene and took the Petaluman to jail, where he sobered up and later plead guilty to reckless driving. He paid a fine of $60 and also $30 damages to repair the buggy.

SONOMA JUSTICE COURT BUSY THIS WEEK

Frank Upholdi appeared before Judge Small Tuesday and paid a fine of $10 for trespassing on the State Home property while out hunting not long ago. The complaining witness, Mr. Peterson of Eldridge did not appear against him.

In the case of S. Cantor vs Tommy Farrell, Henry Sykes and Jack Trahan charged with assault, the two last named defendants were immediately absolved from blame, evidence against them being insufficient. The case against young Farrell was gone into exhaustively. Attorney Frank Sprague appearing in his behalf, and Ross Campbell of the District Attorney's office prosecuting. Sprague reviewed Farrell's honored career as a soldier and asked that no blemish be put upon him by the Court. Judge Small decided to deal out a suspended sentence to the defendant, it being understood that Mr. Cantor should be paid for the damage done in the mix-up of Thanksgiving Day.

The case grew out of an effort made by the ex-soldier and his friends to have Cantor kill a chained dog which bit Sykes when he attempted to pet the animal. Cantor and his visitors from the Oaks argued over the proposition and when Cantor went inside without promising to do away with the dog, Farrell became so angry that he hurled a chair through a door. The trio was then arrested upon a warrant sworn to by Mr. Cantor.

John Decanini, proprietor of the Fior D'Italia Hotel, accompanied by his wife and little son, Edward, will enjoy a holiday visit in San Francisco and San Jose. John's friends wish him a pleasant journey.

WET AND DRY, OR THE DUCK HUNTERS DUCKED

If you had been to France, across the big ocean, and escaped submarines and shipwrecks and the like. And then came back to Sonoma and had a close shave in a slough, and got all wet and muddled up. And almost drowned, wouldn't it jar you? I'll say it would!

Well, that's what happened to Newt Dal Poggetto and his friend, "Fat" Steurmer, last week on the marshes when they went duck hunting with three other sports, Boecoli, Anselmi and Peterson.

The boys had a regular fleet, consisting of a launch and a skiff, but they made the mistake of trying to fit Newt and Fat into the skiff when a steam schooner would fit 'em better. It was too much ballast for the little barque and she skidded or something and two husky Sonoma lads found themselves in the icy waters of San Pablo Bay at 4 a. m., not hunting a duck, but getting one.

Heavy rubber boots and coats almost dragged them under water, but being light-hearted or something, they kept afloat.

The fellows in the launch shouted lustily for them to stay with the ship! Newt and Fat hollered too—'Hell! Hell! Hell! gurgling all the time, and said their prayers between drinks although Newt forgot some of his and began to repeat the Star Spangled Banner.

And then the launch hove to and rescued them from a watery grave. Fat said he thought the country had gone "dry" but it was all a hideous dream.

And then the life-saving crew took the boys to a barn until daylight and after that to an ark, where they dried their tears and other belongings and found that behind the clouds, the sun was still shining and it all came out in the wash and everything.

And one of the waterlogged nincompoops minus his shotgun and he has had divers trying to salvage it ever since, but the "cat" is still in 30 fathoms of mud.

But the boys recovered all right and you'd never suspect that they were ever soaked in their lives, to look at 'em. Newt says he wouldn't be a poor fish for anything and Steurmer says amen!

GONE, BUT NOT FORGOTTEN

Judge Denny was tendered a farewell banquet by his Santa Rosa bachelor friends a few days prior to his marriage to Mrs. Ryland. The words "gone, but not forgotten" were wrought into the decorative scheme and an elaborate menu was partaken of. The guests from here were Messrs. Frank Barris and Walter Bundschu.

MOUYER & REYNAUD

Miss Minnie Smith of Crockett has been enjoying a visit with her parents east of town.

Mrs. Akers and Mrs. Clements will entertain the M. E. Ladies Aid at the church parlors on the afternoon of the 18th of December.

Mrs. Monroe (nee Letty Watt) is the mother of a fine baby boy, born just two weeks after the death of her father, the late John Watt. This is the second child in the family.

Mrs. Paul Bassi had a still-born babe last Saturday. The Bassi's are recent comers here from Mendocino county and reside in one of the Valente houses.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Coffer have returned from a fine motor trip to Los Angeles with Mrs. Coffer's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Wilkerson of Alameda. They spent Thanksgiving in the South with their mother, Mrs. Nettie Manuel, who resides there.

BOYES SPRINGS GARAGE MEN HAVE FAITH IN SONOMA VALLEY'S FUTURE PROSPERITY

W. R. King, who came here from Watsonville and together with E. Blomgren, conducted the Boyes Springs garage last season, have purchased the property from the Boyes Springs Company. Mr. King, who is an enterprising and successful business man has faith in the future of the valley of the moon. His partner, Mr. Blomgren, is an experienced garage man and machinist, having learned the trade in Sweden where he put in seven years as an apprentice. His high class work has already commended him to auto owners. The Boyes Springs Garage is a decided asset to the Springs and a great accommodation to traveling motorists.

NEW SEMI-WEEKLY STARTS AT SEBASTOPOL

F. E. McDonald, Sam Cleek and Miss J. Threfall have started a new semi-weekly newspaper in Sebastopol under the name of the Journal. It's one darn thing after another for Harry Lutgens of the Sebastopol Times. Only a few weeks ago he was sued by the owners of the Times to close out his contract and lease on that paper but won out in court. McDonald was for a number of years mechanical superintendent of the Times, but branched out for himself as a job printer. Miss Threfall has been the book keeper and Cleek the linotype for the Times. Cleek was for a time employed in the Enterprise office. —Herald-Burg Enterprise

NOTED SCULPTOR KILLS BOB CAT ON LONDON RANCH

Pinne Frolich, the Swedish sculptor, is at present spending his vacation at the Jack London ranch in Glen Ellen, and incidentally driving team, attending to stock and doing odd jobs just to be busy. While about to enter a barn where colts are kept during the winter, Frolich encountered a bob cat, or California lynx, which he quickly dispatched. The animal had been feasting on the chickens on the ranch for months.

The Local Merchant and His Advertising Patronage

(Editorial)

We are pleased to call the attention of our readers to the Christmas advertising of Sonoma merchants. All the leading business firms of town are represented in the columns of the Sonoma Index-Tribune whose policy of upholding and supporting local enterprises has won the confidence, commendation and patronage of the business people of this community. For more than thirty-five years the Index-Tribune has pursued this policy and with success—the success which means more than money, although that was made too—success, synonymous with good will of the community.

In decided contrast to the attitude of the local merchants toward the Index-Tribune is their attitude toward the competitive sheet which calls itself a home town paper, yet has all the earmarks of a mail-order catalogue with its call on every page for our people to shop outside of Sonoma. It is amusing to note that the editor of this printed catalogue for advertisers, comes out this week and openly to excuse his lack of local support, seeking to apologize, qualify and explain the presence of outside advertising patronage in his columns. If you were an outside advertiser, how would you like to be introduced to Sonoma readers by this front page diatribe method? The editor blames the local merchants for not patronizing him and accuses them of actually boycotting him. As a matter of fact, the policy of this sheet would result in there being no town of Sonoma at all. He would wipe it out as a business center and make Sonoma Valley a free-for-all for nearby cities and their merchants. As a matter of fact, the fellow at the helm of this exotic weekly has no conception of the ethics of country journalism or the function of a local newspaper in a field like Sonoma. He evidently believes that the country-newspaper business is a money-grabbing game, wherever the grabbing is good. The good will of the home town people and local merchants is something of which he evidently takes little cognizance. A local newspaper is more than white paper space and the energy to fill it up. A local newspaper should first of all give the news of the community—a vital requirement, consistently overlooked by our competitor. As a result of which the circulation of the Index-Tribune, with its slogan "more news to the inch" has consistently grown. Besides giving the news, there is the all important duty devolving upon the country editor of boosting his own locality and the encouragement and support of local enterprises. There is furthermore the regard of regular business ethics which should obtain between business people. This principle, too, the apologist has violated. His newspaper has attacked and decried local enterprises, including a new $60,000 cannery and its progressive founder. In addition, he has made other breaks and bulls, too stupid to mention, and to top it all off, harps on the misleading question, "why don't Sonoma grow"—a great question from an arch offender who has shown not the faintest conception of the ethics of country journalism. As for the loss of business of which he complains, on account of his high moral tone, he would have you believe that our merchants are upholders of evil, while he is the original "holier than thou", the shining light in a murky atmosphere. We hardly believe that the super morals of this man has hurt his business. We hope not. As a preacher or a space salesman, he might set the world afire, but as a newspaper man, he cools the ardor of well informed advertisers.

Local business men who were advertising in this paper found that in its money grabbing policy, it lost all sight of consideration of local business interests and despite yearly contract arrangements, merchants advertising with him found the same lines of business in adjacent towns boosted, even in the news columns.

It seems to be an obsession with this genius of the pen to use much paper at a time when the cry from all over the U. S. A. is to conserve. Instead of cutting down on magazine stories, Washington letters and other stuff not required in a local paper in these crucial times, this wise pen-pusher seeks to justify his spread by filling up with outside ads which he solicits regardlessly. We opine that when outside advertisers read his own acknowledgment of how the Expositor is regarded locally, he will not find them so anxious to fill his space which went begging here. The paper which has not the good will of the local business people and does not interest them, cannot have the circulation to justify or interest outside advertisers for very long. The editor asks what he was to do when his business fell off and left him with a blank sheet on his hands—not a hard answer, and it will come to that if the apologist continues to view the newspaper business in his light and give Sonoma the deal he has in the past.

The assertion that Sonoma business people do not buy at home and are inconsistent when they insist on the "buy at home" policy, is without foundation or fact and is resolutely our business men and their families.

MARRIED IN PET. ALUMA WEDNESDAY

At St. Vincent's church Wednesday a quiet wedding took place when Miss Lillian Zamorini of the San Antonio district became the bride of Antonio Beffa of Sonoma. Rev. Father J. Kiely officiated. The couple were attended by Miss Emma Zamaroni and Pierino Zamaroni.

Miss Zamaroni looked charming in a tailored suit. The bridesmaid also wore a tailored gown.

A number of relatives and friends were present to witness the ceremony. Mr. Beffa and bride departed for San Francisco, where the honeymoon will be spent and on their return they will reside at Sonoma where Mr. Beffa is conducting a ranch.

Mrs. Beffa is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zamaroni and a sister of Mrs. John Filippini, and Miss Amelia, Emma, Waldo and Pierino Zamaroni. She is a very charming young woman and has many friends who will be interested in the news of the wedding.

Mrs. Beffa has always resided in Sonoma where he has been successful as a rancher. He is a son of James Beffa and a brother of Frank, Mary, James, Jr., Mrs. Antonio Keyser of Sonoma, Mrs. Manuel De Rosa of Novato.—Petaluma Courier.

VINEBURG NEWS

A committee from the Improvement Club and the Five O'Clock Tea Club waited on Mr. Louis Martin and asked him if he would not light up Vineburg Inn on dark, stormy evenings, especially when the "Glen Ellen Limited Train" arrives. Mr. Martin said frankly, "Let the Law take its course. 'Ye who closed Vineburg Inn, open it up again if you can'."

Mesdames Enrico Forni and Grover Rubke and Miss Helen Forni motored to Napa Tuesday.

Large quantities of seed are now being cleaned in the mill at Battio's Spur and seed oats from Sonoma valley are being shipped from this point to different parts of the coast.

Misses Adele Andrieux and Louise Battio visited the metropolis Friday.

The only reason why the Vineburg news was omitted for the past two weeks was that the "Reporter's office" on the night of the big wind, went by the boards and since then he has been without board, "legal excuse."

Enrico Forni is now engaged in erecting a garage and repair shop in Vineburg for Mr. Anderson. We hear that the gentleman has been in business in San Francisco and Oakland and is an expert in auto work.

Some select society people in this vicinity have invented a new card game which takes three gentlemen

"OH BABY"—IT'S COMING TO THE CLINE

"If a man can't or won't laugh there is something wrong with his stomach of his heart." So says Mike Sacks the chief joy who will be at the Cline Theatre, Santa Rosa on Wednesday night, Dec. 17 with the new Marcus Show in the girliesque extravaganza "Oh Baby."

Mike comes pretty nearly being right too. Take it from us. The fellow who can't laugh is to be pitied—he is beyond recall.

While "Oh Baby" will be talked about for its spectacular features, its "back to nature" dancing, its wonderful congress of girls, its innumerable novelties and its wealth of variety, it is certain that no portion will be more welcome than the liberal vein of fun that pervades the big show.

The climax of the fun making is "Sacks" effort to direct a band of nondescripts. Then there is a poker game that will set devotees of the indoor sport into paroxysms of laughter. Nor will soon be forgotten Sacks' parodies.

A critic said of "Oh Baby" last season:

"I haven't laughed at such a fund of clean humor since the days of Weber and Fields. The Marcus Show is what Weber and Fields would have had had they continued their organization to this day and age." Seat sale Sat. Dec. 13. Prices $5.00 to $2.50 seats on main floor at $1.50.

MRS. B. P. NORRIS, A FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN THE EAST

Mrs. B.P. Norris, a former resident of Sonoma, died at the home of her daughter in Ayer, Mass. recently. She was 85 years of age and left here about 10 years ago to make her home in the East. Mr. Norris, who survives her must be nearing the centennial mark. He was formerly in the carpenter and contracting business here.

Jerome Jansen is here from San Francisco recuperating from a slight accident. Jerome's many friends are glad to see him in town.
